

Gordana Benić was born in Split 1950. She earned her degree in literature and philosophy from Philosophical Faculty in Zadar, and she attended postgraduate studies of literature at Philosophical Faculty in Zagreb. She writes poetry and prose poems. For her poetry and journalism she received prestigious national awards (Awards "Augustin Ujević", "Vicko Andrić"). She lives in Split and works as journalist specialized for archeological themes.

Books:

Soba, poetry (Književni krug, Split, 1982)

Kovači sjene, poetry (Književni krug, Split, 1987)

Trag Morie, poetry (HSN, Zagreb, 1992)

Dubina, poetry (Meandar, Zagreb, 1994)

Laterna Magica, poetry (Književni krug, Split, 1998)

Balada o neizrecivom, poetry (Meandar, Zagreb, 2003)

Godina Sfinge, essays on Diocletian Palace in Split (Ex Libris, Zagreb, 2003)

Unutarnje more – Selected Poems, edited by Z. Mrkonjić (MH Zagreb, 2006)

Svijet bez predmeta, poetry (Književni krug, Split, 2007).